The 1957 Cavalcade

Presented by THE SENIOR CLASS
of
Drexel High School

They may not be wise as the wisest, they may not be clever or strong.
There'll be times you will think that their counsel
is narrow or utterly wrong.
You will think when they frown upon pleasures which you are so eager to share
That your father and mother who love you are merely an old-fashioned pair.
But this they would have you remember, whatever they say or they do
It is not of themselves they are thinking...their thoughts are all centered in you.

There are those who will flatter to please you for something they're eager to gain.
There are those who will seem to befriend you who never will constant remain.
Some stranger will lead you to folly and leave you
the moment it's done,
Some, not caring what harm may befall you, will
tempt you with dangerous fun,
You may question the motives of others, but remember your whole lifetime through
Your father and mother who love you have no other motive than you.

There is nothing of profit they're seeking; there's nothing they want you to buy.
You've no reason to doubt what they tell you; they've
nothing to gain by a lie,
Whenever they check or correct you, it is not for themselves that they speak,
They would happier be could they praise you, but it's only your welfare they seek.
You may think them old-fashioned and fussy and narrow, as children will do,
But remember your father and mother have all their hopes centered in you.

Prophecy

As I turned on the T. V. set, I was indeed surprised to see the features of Richard Arrowood, an old classmate of mine, reporting the world's latest news.

The first item concerned Wayne Reece, the world famous sportscaster. It seems that while he was announcing a game between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Yankees, he got so excited that he fell off the chair and broke his arm.

Next came an item from the world of fashion. Lucille Crowe, owner of a line of beauty shops, created a sensation when she introduced a new hairdo called "The Possum Spread." It was modeled by Jeanne Fleming, a model from Erect Studios, owned by Robert Helms and the former Shirley Keller.

As in all good programs, there must be advertisements and this one was no different. I always leave during the advertisements but when the announcer appeared I was spellbound. It was Steve Lowdermilk, who was telling all the advantages of a new product put out by the James Walker Manufacturing Company.

The news from the world of sports was full of surprises. First, Johnny Jacumin, goalie for the Montreal Bears, was fined for hitting Bobby Powell, goalie of the Charlotte Clippers. We were told that one more outburst like this would mean a suspension from the team along with a one year prison term in the prison headed by that hardboiled law officer, John Baker. Next was a more cheerful note. Bobby Shull, leading batter for the New York Yankees, seems to be a frequent escort of Miss Wilma Lane, private secretary of Henry Rhoney, vice-president of the Rex Williams Steel Works. Last, the leading race driver of the century, Fred Lail, has just won the Harold Ledford Trophy. This trophy is made available through the generosity of the famous millionaire from which it gets its name.

A new book on religion, published by a new author, Emily Edwards, seems to be taking hold and the owner of the Howard Secrest Publishing Company is hoping that it will go over the Million Mark. Their leading advertising agent, Harold Pruitt is making all efforts to attain this goal.

Now the news from Hollywood, Gary Barber has just produced his latest thriller, staring two new comers, Jackie Lockee and Anna Mae Rockett. It is a true story of two of the leading scientists of all times, Ronald Singleton and Carelene Clark.

The Ronny Childres Trio composed of Ronny Childres, Candace Berry, and Sue Yarborough are appearing for a week's engagement at the Pines Hotel with the famous Ross and Lowman Orchestra furnishing the accompaniment. The owner of the Pines, Jackie Powell, says he expects large crowds on opening night. The next stars appearing at the Pines will be Marie Watts, the famous dancer, Charlotte Reece, the sultry torch singer, and the two remarkable piano playing sisters, Jane and Myrna Oxford.

Seeing and hearing of all the accomplishments of my former classmates proved too great a strain for me and I felt myself slipping into unconsciousness.

When I awoke I was surprised to see Jean Barber, the receptionist, seated behind her large desk typing my admittance slip. I was taken to my room by Marjorie Grigg, head supervisor of the hospital.

In came a cute little nurse. Imagine my surprise when I saw she was Betty Berry. Due to her careful nursing, I was soon home and watching T. V. again.

GARY BARBER
Prophesier

Defying oll thoughts of personol sofety,
Quickly he carried the boll.
Even the defensive couldn't stop him,
No, not one of them oll.
As he reoched the sixty-yard line,
The goal post loomed up ohead.
Now he knew he could make it,
A touchdown would soon be his stead.

Corefully he eluded opposition,
Yet, he wos felled to the ground.
Listlessly he wos lifted,
The whole teom gothered 'round.
A day, o week, a month,
Would it never end?
Recovery peeked oround the corner,
Then he begon to mend.
Keep on ploying for Drexel, Deon,
Three cheers for o Wonderful Friend!

CHARLOTTE REECE

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Drexel High School on this day of May thirtieth, nineteen hundred and fifty-seven, being in full possession of all our intellectual abilities, and having finally, by devious and sundry routes, drawn nearer to the graduation of all high-school students, hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

To the school board, we, the Senior Class, express our gratitude for their interest in us and for having made these years of education possible.

To Mr. Hallyburton...our thanks for his leadership and co-operation.

To the faculty, we extend our sincere appreciation for their helpfulness in teaching, guiding, and counseling us in our years of high school.

To the class of 1958, we leave our reputation as the "most intellectual" class in school.

To the members of the Junior Class, we make the following individual bequeaths:

Richard Arrowood wills his knowledge of bookkeeping to Wendell Powell, who will probably need it. John Baker leaves his "love for all the girls" to Kenneth Harris. Gary Barber leaves his ability to skip class to Jimmy Haigler and his ability to be smart when in class to Dorothy Denton. Jane and Myrna Oxford leave their singing ability to Betty Pearson and their "Baby Grand Piano" to Beverly Turner. Jackie Lockee bequeaths his "hot rod racing" to Darrell Powell. Fred Lail wills his ability to draw cars in class to George Anthony. Carolyn Lowman wills her ability "to really play those drums" to Louise Young and her love for the band to Gayle Eaker. Anna Mae Rockett leaves her cheerleading and "Glee Club" to Sandra and Kaye Simmons. Daisy Ross leaves her "first-chair position" in the clarinet section to Barbara Aikens. Harold Ledford leaves his ability to make "all-conference football" to Gary Mast. Wayne Reece wills his love for the "Brooklyn Dodgers" to Jerry Lowman (a converted fan). Jeanne Fleming wills her drum-majorette abilities to Sue Cook and her love for "English" to Dorothy Buff. Carelene Clarke wills her shorthand to anybody with a long arm. Betty Powell leaves her matrimonial conflicts to Rita Nichols. Lucille Crowe leaves her seat in "Honor Study Hall" to Lovene Smith.

Bobby Shull wills his friendly ways to Bobby Smith and his "blue Ford" to Jack Weir. Henry Rhoney leaves his love for baseball to Darrell Reece. Steve Lowdermilk bestows upon Emogene Denton his ability to learn French (easily). Emily Edwards wills her ability to make good on tests to Janice Lowman. Harold Pruett leaves his comical drawings of "Elvis Presley" to John Deal. Candace Berry leaves her "love for the college boys" to Joan Burns and her record collection to Linda Gail Deal. Shirley Keller wills her versatility to Mary Ellen Baker and her typewriter to Hannah Secrest. Howard Secrest leaves his Navy career to Donald Hunt. Ronnie Childres wills his (Quiet?) ways to Leonia Grady. Sue Yarborough leaves her stifled "giggles" to Joan West and her love for F. T. A. and "dieting" to Linda Jean Deal. Rex Williams leaves "No. 40" to one of his clan, Jerry Williams. Wilma Lane leaves her "office chair" to Jean Woody and her sweet ways to Maurine Huffman. Jackie Powell wills his ability for "bench warming" to Tom Ledbetter. Bobby Powell bequeaths his advice on "How to become a millionaire" to Howard Branch and Johnny Higgins.

Jimmy Walker leaves his "brain" to Paul Shuffler and Boyce Bradshaw. Robert Helms wills his cue-stick to Kenneth Stamey. Marjorie Grigg leaves her love for Home Economics to Linda Smith and her typing problems to Gloria Smith. Jean Barber wills her Super-Duper bubble gum to Frances Burns and her love for "Hillbilly Round-Up" to Thelma Workman. Marie Watts wills her love for dancing to Verna Hoyle and Shirley Powell. Ronald Singleton leaves his "book of knowledge" to Rachel Powell and Glenda Settlemyre. Charlotte Reece wills her ability to "do a million things at one time" to Kay Griffin and her guarding position to Maxine Branch. Johnny Jacumin wills his "Ivey League Hat" and his beloved Elvis Presley picture to all the cool "cats" in the Junior Class.

In testimony whereof we, the said Seniors, will to all who follow us, our aspirations, hopes, aims, ideals and accomplishments.
